Thinking Out Loud

By H. M. L.

Since he speaks with the voice of conviction and his sincerity has never been challenged, and since his opinions are close to our own, we are substituting in this column today the letter of Ralph H. Taylor, executive secretary of the Agricultural Council of California. It follows:

By RALPH H. TAYLOR

Within a few days, Californians —as well as all Americans—will celebrate the Fourth of July, the most significant anniversary of a liberty loving people.

The Declaration of Independence the most cherished document of the world's greatest and first democracy, will be read and reread in public schools, city plazes, memorial auditoriums and public meeting places the nation over.

Bands will play the stirring marches and patriotic songs of a country proud of its heritage. Veterans will parade. Orators will make history live again. And the average American citizen, whether he stays at home for a family reunion, stays on his farm to harvest his crops, stands with bared head at some public ceremonial —or, perhaps, takes advantage of the holiday for a long delayed fishing trip—will inevitably think a bit of America and the sacrifice and struggle which have gone into the building of America.

In this writer's opinion, the finest way any American can celebrate the Fourth of July this year, irrespective of what else he may do during the holiday, is just to "think a bit."

After ten years of depression, with our economic problems still unsolved, America probably needs serious, sober thought—intelligent deliberation and careful consideration of our individual problems, our neighbor's problems and our country's problems—more than it needs any other one thing. For both California and the nation have vital need to find the road back to security and independence—and they can only find that road by united, intelligent effort, based on straight thinking and honest, unselfish reasoning.

During a period of social and economic upheaval, with dwindling incomes, widespread unemployment and far too much of distress and privation, it is not unnatural that quack cure-alls and get-rich-quick patent remedies have been sold on every street corner. Nor is it unnatural that thousands of men and women, who ordinarily would reject such spurious panaceas as unsound and unworkable, have been induced to hunt for the pot of gold at the end of the rainbow. But most Americans have learned by this time—or should have learned, for experience is a hard teacher—that a nation can't spend itself rich, nor abolish the simple natural law that all basic wealth and income must come from production.

California and America need a new order of patriotism—a patriotism which goes beyond reverence for the Flag and respect for American traditions; a patriotism which makes for intelligent, unselfish, straight thinking citizenship.

If some eloquent malcontent tells you that "the capitalistic system" is the vicious system used by the money barons and corporate interests to keep you in serfdom, think back a bit! The so-called "capitalistic system," reduced to everyday terms, is the system of individual enterprise which gives you the right to own a farm, if you can save enough to make the down payment, or the corner grocery store—if you are thrifty enough to achieve it—or the biggest business in America, if you happen to have the genius, ingenuity and determination to acquire it. It is the system which has given America more material comforts—even in the worst times—than any other nation on the face of the globe; which built California from a few gold camps to the most glorious and prosperous state in the Union. And it happens to be the system of Washington, Jefferson, Abe Lincoln and a few other great Americans who did more for the cause of human liberty than all the soap box orators and something for nothing agitators of this generation.

America needs to get back to basic principles; it needs to learn again that it is intelligent to save against a rainy day, rather than smart to apply for relief and "let the other fellow carry the burden;" it needs to learn that real wages are fixed by production, rather than labor leaders; that pensions must be paid out of the sweat of those who labor (and therefore can't exceed the earned salaries of the workers who pay them), and that independence begets responsibilities. It needs to "think a bit!"

Grass Valley Ready For Big Three-Day Fourth Celebration

Grass Valley has practically completed plans for a splendid celebration over July 2, 3 and 4, and a new high in attendance is expected. Financing is completed and Chairman Bert Chegwidden reports about $900 subscribed by business firms. The city has authorized public band concerts for the events at another $200. Additional donations are: Empire Star Mines $50; McClard, the druggist $5; Holmes Funeral Home $5; Montre Radio Shop $2.50; Golden State Towel and Laundry Service $5; Hooper-Richfield $5; Busby's men's shop $5; and Judge George L. Jones of Nevada City $5.

Sunday has been designated as general reunion and picnic day and Nevada City and Grass Valley churches will feature patriotic themes.

According to Chairman Harry Poole, the patriotic parade on July Fourth will move into line of march at 9:30 on South Church street.

The line of march will be, Church to Main; Main to Mill; Mill to Neal; Neal to Auburn; Auburn to Main; down main to Diamond Match Co.; up Main to Mill; Mill to Neal; down Neal to Auburn, out Auburn to the Veterans Memorial hall and disband.

Lew Bington, Fourth of July program speaker at the exercises, which will follow at the conclusion of the parade, together with Grand Marshal Dan C. Stewart, officers of the day and committee heads will gather at a luncheon at the Bret Harte Inn immediately after the close of the program in Memorial Hall.

Among the special attractions during the period of the celebration will be the Homecoming golf tournament at the Nevada County Golf Club Sunday morning at 9 o'clock with the prizes furnished by the Fourth of July committee; softball games on July 5 with outside teams at the Henessy field and the elaborate Junior Chamber of Commerce sports program during the afternoon of the Fourth.

This program will open at 1:30 o'clock with the soapbox derby on West Main street and will close at 5:20 with the fire department water fight on the "waterfront." Throughout the afternoon, the Junior Chamber of Commerce will stage races, novelty events and contests. The gold mine will be given away at 4 o'clock and the toy house 7 feet by seven feet by six feet will be awarded at 4:20. This house was constructed by the AFL Carpenters Union.

Business houses in Grass Valley are gay with bunting, flags and other patriotic decorations for the holiday. Many colored lights and streamers add to the brilliant setting for the big celebration.

Nevada City and Grass Valley alternate with the Fourth celebration. This year Nevada City is entering floats and sending a big representation from the city in return for the splendid support given them the year before. Nevada City's floats are Native Daughters, Rotary in partnership with Grass Valley Rotary, Tahoe National Forest, Nevada City Fire Department, Antlers Lodge, Chamber of Commerce and probably the Nevada City Lodge of Redmen.

POPULATION IN NEV. CO. DOUBLES IN TEN YEARS

SACRAMENTO, June 29.—Population of Nevada county has increased an estimated 10,904 persons since the 1930 census, State Controller Harry B. Riley disclosed today in a report showing a state wide increase of nearly 19 per cent. These figures, based on estimates of county auditors, are contained in Riley's report of city and county financial transactions for 1938.

Nevada county's population rose from 10,596 in 1930 to 21,500 last year, the report indicates, an increase of 102.9 per cent.

Population of the state jumped 1,076,732 to a new high of 6,753,983 persons in 1938 as compared to 5,677,251 in 1930. California's increase in the eight year period nearly equalled the entire population of the state of Florida shown in the last federal census.

Los Angeles county, the most populous in the state, experienced the greatest increase of the fifty-8 counties, an estimated 159,750 persons. San Diego county made the second largest gain, 147,681; Alameda county was third with 125,117; San Francisco fourth with 102,606; and Santa Clara county fifth with 51,882.

Twenty one counties registered an increase of 10,000 or more population. Five of the smaller counties more than doubled their population; one of them, Trinity county, nearly trebled its number of residents, Controller Riley's report reveals. Smallest county in California is Alpine with 550 residents, an increase of 309 since 1930.

M. M. Coughlan, who has been quite ill at his home on Nevada street, is showing some improvement.

DRINKING FOUNTAINS FOR PIONEERS PARK

Street Superintendent H. Hallett installed two drinking fountains in Pioneers Park Wednesday. One was placed near the Seaman Hall yesterday for the convenience of the public.

Hallett and crew have finished paving the Lower Grass Valley road from Sacramento street to the city limits and Valley street between the Lower Grass Valley road and junction of Pine and Sacramento.

CAPT. JOE BLAKE ASKS THE PUBLIC TO COOPERATE

Capt. Joe Blake of the California highway patrol states that there is every indication of a record breaking crowd at the Grass Valley celebration of the Fourth next Tuesday. He will have two extra patrolmen on his force to serve Nevada county and the thousands of visitors expected.

"Grass Valley and Nevada City are hard cities to patrol and to maintain order in on occasions such as the Fourth," Capt. Blake declared, "because of narrow streets and few and narrow highways entering and leaving them. A little accident, a collision of any kind, can tie up traffic for hours when the roads are filled with cars.

"I especially ask for the co-operation of all motorists during the coming week end. Take it easy, drive carefully, be sure the traffic patrolmen are doing their best all the time to safeguard everyone on the streets and highways. When we are obliged to divert traffic from one street to another, it is always in the interest of everyone using the streets, to gain time and to avoid congestion. I hope we will meet with the hearty co-operation of all drivers during the week end and holiday."

LADIES AID SOCIETY PICNIC

Friendship Circle of the Ladies Aid Society of the Methodist church enjoyed a delightful picnic dinner and party at the John Norton home in Gold Flat Wednesday afternoon. A delicious dinner was served at one o'clock and a social time kept the group until late afternoon.

CHIEF ROBSON RELIEVES DOG THAT WAS TOO CLOSE TO PORCUPINE

The chief of police, Garfield Robson, does a great many things beside lug inebriates and vagabonds to the hoosegow, collect city business licenses, cite owners of arked cars, impound starving dogs, put the Indian sign on extra cats, do special chores for the city fathers, and keep traffic moving. He doesn't engage in dentistry in his spare (?) time, but the other day he performed an operation that in some respects resembles dentistry and, he did it for nothing, which dentists are very reluctant to do.

A woman residing on East Broad street came to him with her dog which was nearly frantic with pain. The dog had manifested too much curiosity about a porcupine, and as a result his nose, nostrils and mouth fairly bristled with quills. The chief with Max Solaro's help finally got a muzzle on the dog and then with a pair of pliers took out the quills one by one. The woman thanked him gratefully and the dog wagged his tail.

STATE TRAFFIC PATROL TUNES UP FOR FOURTH

SACRAMENTO, June 29.—Motorcycles and speed cars of the California highway patrol are being tuned and traffic officers throughout the state are preparing to put in long hours to control the heaviest motor travel ever witnessed on state highways during Independence Day celebrations. In many cases it is believed the celebration may extend over a four-day period.

Chief E. R. Cato has cancelled all leaves in order to have every available man on the highway to regulate motor vehicles traveling to Treasure Island at San Francisco, the Centennial Celebraton at Sacramento, to numerous rodeos and to vacation areas, which places are arranging to care for the biggest crowds in history.

Traffic officers have been advised that numerous business houses are arranging to remain closed on Monday, July 3, thereby giving many employees an opportunity for a three or four day holiday, and will arrange their schedules to care for motor vehicles traveling to and from these vacation and celebration places. Every available piece of equipment of the patrol will be placed on the highways. During the next few days motorcycles and cars will be tuned up, the radios rechecked and first aid sets carefully examined so that the officers will be ready for emergencies resulting from the expected heavy travel.

"We are looking for the heaviest travel in the history of California", said Chief Cato. "Many persons will have several days' holiday and with the many attractions being offered, all of them being well advertised, we are preparing to handle a record flow of traffic.

"All leaves have been cancelled and our officers are to be detailed so as to give the greatest amount of protection possble over the entire period."

He pointed out that motorists can help a great deal by driving carefully, by avoiding cutting in and out of traffic and by having their cars carefully checked before starting on a trip.

"Our accident records show that excessive speed, improper turning, and passing, driving on the wrong side of the road, violating the right of way, following too closely and crowding other cars off the highways cause most of our troubles," said Cato.

"Also, drunken drivers and pedestrians account for a great deal of difficulty. If motorists will observe the rules of common sense we may expect California to pass through the coming holiday period with an enviable record of no accidents or deaths on our highways."

Mr. and Mrs. Locke Breaux of San Francisco will arrive Saturday to remain until after July Fourth visiting Mr. Breaux' cousin, Mrs. W. F. Roddy and Mr. Roddy.

Hobart Mills Is Ravaged By Fire

The abandoned town of Hobart Mills burned to the ground yesterday afternoon and threatened wide devastation in the surrounding country.

Flames were reported by the forest lookout at 3 o'clock in the afternoon. The fire started in one of the empty dwellings and with a variable 20-mile wind burned toward the center where the mill buildings were situated. The wind carried flaming shingles and blazing bits of material to the surrounding country and fear was expressed at the local forest service office, that the blaze would spread to the timber and pasture land in the vicinity.

The CCC camp, situated on the edge of Hobart Mills, in which approximately 100 boys are now enrolled was called upon to fight the flames as well as they could with only a small supply of water available. When the fire broke out these boys were out on their daily work assignments and precious minutes were lost while they were being brought in from work.

Besides the CCC boys at Hobart Mills, fire fighting crews were sent from the CCC camp at Boca, where 60 boys are enrolled, from Rubicon Park where 20 boys are camped, and the pumper crew of five from White Cloud.

A tool supply for 200 men was rushed from Nevada City headquarters of the forest service, along with a trail builder.

Ranger Snider and Assistant Supervisor Baxter are in charge of the battle against the flames.

Reports received last night at 8 o'clock indicated that the fire was spreading in the timber over a considerable area. A strong wind sprang up toward sundown to fan the flames which fed on tinder like buildings dry grass and forest litter.

In spreading from building to building in Hobart Mills, which was abandoned last year and turned over to a wrecking company, ignition at times seemed almost like an explosion. The area about Hobart Mills was deeded by the lumber company to the U. S. forest service.

Reports late last evening stated five buildings were burned in Hobart Mills and the fire was spreading into the timber to the northeast. One hundred extra men were sent out from Nevada City late in the afternoon and more guards accompanied the men to act as crew leaders. More radio equipment was also sent out to the scene of the rapidly spreading fire.

DON'T USE TOO MUCH WATER ON JULY 2, 3 OR 4

Herbert Hallett, street superintendent and water division manager, is warning residents of Nevada City and Grass Valley to be very conservative with water over the second, third and fourth of July as the P. G. & E. company will stop all water running into the flumes and repair a flume in Bear Valley. There will be no water until the night of the fifth. Danger of fire in the twin cities has caused the order for conservation.

The P. G. & E. company purchases water from Bowman lake, the Nevada Irrigation district buys from the P. G. & E. out of Spaulding and then it is sold to the two cities.

ELZA KILROY NARROWLY ESCAPES DECAPITATION

Elza Kilroy, local post office employee, came near being killed Wednesday while going home to lunch. He was near the Nagle property when a big truck loaded with pipe laid crosswise of the truck, made a turn off the Downieville highway into the street. As Kilroy saw the truck make the turn, a long pipe sticking out, sweep around the curve he banked his car and ducked. He threw his hands over his face as he thought the pipe would strike the windshield. Luckily his car did not have a top and the pipe passed over him otherwise his car top and perhaps his head would have been torn off.

TOY PARADE TO FEATURE EVE OF FOURTH OF JULY

Sponsored by the P. T. A. arrangements are rapidly being made for one of the largest Toy Parades ever inaugurated to take place next Monday evening in Grass Valley beginning at 7:30 and starting from the public library on Mill street.

It is announced that no horses or automobiles will be permitted in this parade for youngsters only. Entries in the parade are coming in rapidly. Application blanks are available at the Nevada City Nugget office, the Nevada City Chamber of Commerce and the Morning Union.

Every child participating in the parade will receive an all-day sucker and prizes amounting to $45.

All Nevada City children are cordially invited to join the big Toy parade. It is something new and will delight every youngster who participates in it.

ROTARY SEATS CLYDE GWIN AS NEW PRESIDENT

The Rotary club last evening entertained their ladies at dinner at the National Hotel. Del Henrich, who will direct recreational activities at Pioneers park for two months this summer gave an interesting address on the importance of directed recreation as a means of guiding the youth of the land into activities and associations that will halt tendencies toward delinquency.

Clyde Gwin was ushered into the office of president to succeed Andy Holmes. Frank Finnegan, a past president of the club, presented Mr. Holmes with a past president's pin.

A new fangled radio was introduced at this point which sounded off with an address (apparently) by the President of the United States, beginning with "My Frands" and carrying through in perfect mimicry of the President's fire side style. Outgoing President Holmes was soundly scored by the Chief Executive (?) who read portions of a purported letter written by Holmes to F. D. R. in which Holmes declared he would not vote for the President a third time. This episode apparently had aroused the President (?) to a cold fury and he read Holmes out of the Republican party, out of the Rotary club, and forbade him joining the New Dealers. The "chat" wound up with a fine imposed on Holmes for his irritating letter. The fine was 97 cents.

Two songs were delightfully rendered by Mrs. Max Solari in her charming soprano, accompanied on the piano by Miss Hawkins.

Mr. Henrich called on members of the Rotary club for assistance in putting over his recreation project this summer. The Rotary club sponsored the Co-ordinating council in an effort to reduce or halt the increasing rate of youth delinquency. The speaker stated that this is becoming a problem throughout the state, and for that matter was a serious problem throughout the United States. He said of the 6000 inmates of San Quentin, half were under the age of 25 years.

The program begins with a big bonfire and entertainment at Pioneer park this evening. There will be community singing. The scouts will present the colors and put on a skit. The Camp fire Girls will do a little stunt, Mayor Ben Hall will speak and there will be other entertainment, including tap dances by Grace Reilly and Betty Young, a humorous reading by Jean Hawkins, a cracker eating contest for a prize, orchestra selections led by Norman Foote of Grass Valley, and a Rotary club skit.

Testimony before the Senate Committee considering proposed amendments to the Wagner Labor Relations Act has raised several points on which light should be thrown in the public interest.

Here are the points as presented in the testimony:

"The Board claims it is not infringing the right of free speech. If this is true, the Board should not object to a clear provision in the Act preserving that right against possibility of attack by future boards.

"The Board says it has no prejudice against independent unions, unaffiliated with the CIO or the AF of L. If this is true, it should not object to the amendment by Senator Ellender, which, under those circumstances, is merely declaratory.

"If the Board does not in any way discriminate against men because they have exercised their right to remain unaffiliated with unions, there should be no objection to stating the right to join or not to join, as does the Norris-LaGuardia Act.

"If the Board is complying with fair rules of procedure, fairly applied, in conducting investigations and hearings, and holding elections, it should not object to having those rules laid down for the guidance of all concerned, including future boards.

If the Board accepts fully the decisions of the Supreme Court in the Fansteel and Columbian cases, it should, in the interest of labor, prefer to see the rule of those decisions written into the Act, so that future boards may not give them an unwarranted interpretation."

What will the Board answer to these valid questions?—Contributed.

Why Work Is Scarce

If we're looking for reasons why industry is not expanding and providing more jobs for the unemployed, here's one that speaks for itself in tones loud enough to be heard by even the most indifferent observer.

The Standard Statistics Company has just released a report showing that last year 80 representatove corporations paid a tax bill of $203,682,751, and that after paying this tax bill, these companies had an aggregate net income of but $133,685,202.

Reduced to more comprehensible figures, this means that the various governmental taxing agencies took $20 for every $13 paid to stockholders. Nor does that tell the whole story. Some of these taxes must be paid whether the corporations are operating or not.

Now, it is a well-known fact and a sound theory that employes do not work for fun. And it is just as sound a theory that investors do not put their money into industrial concerns just for the fun of it either.

And that just about completes the circle. People will not invest money in a corporation whose enormous tax bill prevents the payment of dividends, and without such investment industry is certainly not able to expand and provide more jobs for the unemployed. — From Motor Wheel News, Lansing, Michigan.

Sane Independence

Americans will commemorate American independence next week (but chances are that too many of them won't even give a thought to the occasion they are celebrating. To those it will be just another July 4—just another holiday.

As we approach this holiday, therefore, it might be well for the citnzenry to remind itself that Independence Day is indeed a day to be commemorated; that independence is well worth fighting and dying for, but that self annihilation and injury through carelessness is not the prescribed method for celebrating July 4.

Dying for American independence was the tragic role played by our forefathers. They died that their descendants might have freedom from oppressive government, but they had no desire that the descendants should continue the role simply as a part of the celebration.

This Fourth of July will be safer and saner if everybody will slow down a bit and give pause for a little thinking about what Independence Day really means.—Contributed.

TRUCK KILLS DOG

Street Superintendent Herbert Hallett and city crew narrowly averted running over some small children on Clay street yesterday when a pack of several dogs ran out and attacked the truck wheel tires. It was either hit the children standing close along the roadside or hit the dogs and one animal was killed as both wheels of the truck hit it. He stated the dogs have a habit of running after automobiles and dashing at the wheels each morning.

WHAT DOES IT GET ME?

From Aunt Sarah

Funny, but everyone is just as hungry on the Fourth of Juy as at any other time! So, with friends dropping in and family stepping out it makes a very busy day for mother. The wisest way is to plan a "help yourself" menu and use paper cups and plates. Then mother may step out too. There is of course the old stand by, boiled ham, potato salad and watermelon and a cool drink.

Then there's the Italian macaroni or baked beans as the main dish menu, or meat loaf and gravy, which may be served either hot or cold. A big meat loaf cooked the day before fills the bill. Each straggler or group of stragglers may warm their own slice in a pan of gravy. Make no mistake about it, they'll not be satisfied with a light lunch of jello salad and sandwiches.

Easy Meat Loaf

Two pounds ground round steak.
One pound ground lean veal.
Five cents worth pork sausage.
One egg.
One cup cracker or bread crumbs.
Salt, pepper, a bit of sage or thyme. One-half cup chopped fried onions. Tomato sauce if desired.

Mix all together (except tomato sauce). Pack in a loaf pan, and bake in moderate oven about 50 minutes. Baste with hot water or the tomato sauce.

ANOTHER FIVER DONATED

Harold Anderson, operator of the Glennon Service Station is the latest to give to the playground program of the Co-ordinating Council and presented them with $5. The additional amount gives the council the sum of $236.50 and the aim is $250.

ATTEMPT MADE TO REGULATE THE REGULATORS

By JAMES PRESTON

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 29.—The acoustics in Washington are sometimes phenomenal. For instance, the drop of a political pin will sometimes make more noise than a boulder dropped from the Washington monument.

So it is that a boulder has been dropped (without much noise) on the toes of the New Deal. In this case the weighty object dropped is a Congressional report attacking the administration's method of issuing rules and regulations. This report contains one of the most pointed barbs written in several sessions of Congress, but it has passed unnoticed, in news dispatches from Washington.

The report was written by the Senate's Judiciary Committee which has been considering a bill to place some curb on the power now enjoyed by Federal agencies. The bill under consideration would permit court review of rules and regulations issued by these agencies. Under the present administration set up, the rule makers abide by no rules other than their own, and figuratively thumb their noses at the courts and Constitutional law.

Here is the barb in the committee's report.

". . . the prime consideration and emphasis has been on strengthening the powers of the Federal Government so as to regulate and control the governed with practically no consideration being given to providing means and methods whereby the governors could be governed and the regulators could be regulated. The time has come when some of these regulators consider themselves above the statutes and when they show contemptuous disregard; both the Congress and the courts. Unless this country is to become first a parliamentary and then a totalitarian government, with the states reduced to mere police provinces, and with both the legislative and judicial branches of our government dominated by the administrative agencies of government, these administrative agencies must be required to both observe the terms of the statutes and to exercise good faith in their administration of such statutes."

Best indication to date that Congress really wants to adjourn by July 15 is the recent mood exhibited by the House. That chamber has suddenly begun meeting at 11 a. m. every week day, which is an hour earlier than usual. Also, several of its sessions have lasted past the dinner hour as comared with the usual "about five o'clock" recess. More Saturday sessions also are in prospect, which is a definite home stretch hint.

There is more significance than has been printed behind the announcement of the CIO that it will begin a major unionization drive in the aircraft and shipbuilding industries soon. It is these industries that will carry the heaviest load in the national defense program. And here is the background for the announced CIO drive:

Several weeks ago the CIO almost succeeded in slipping a "joker" through Congress which would have given labor agitators (or even foreign spies) enough power virtually to shut down the nation's defense industries. The "joker" was in the form of an amendment to the National Defense Bill. It would have voided any government defense contract if the firm holding the contract was engaged in any labor dispute. And a labor dispute can mean a dispute between an employer and a single employee. The amendment was tossed out of the defense bill when, at almost the last mnute, the joker was discovered.

Thus many of the Capitol interpret the CIO membership drive in the defense industries as a show of determination to gain control of these vital units of industry — with or without legislative "cooperation."

Many at the Capitol, too, are a bit worried over the prospect, for they remember—all too well—some of the violence and long shut downs that have accompanied other CIO drives.

NEW FIVE AND TEN STORE AT HILLS FLAT

Convenient, light, airy and modern to the last detail is the new 5 and 10-cent store in Hills Flat, adjoining the Purity building. The Hills Flat Five-and-Ten is one of several new enterprises that have in the past few weeks been established in that new trading center adjacent to Grass Valley. The store offers a wide selection of household merchandise, wearing apparel, notions and variety goods.

MONEY BACK ART GETS MADE-TO-ORDER AGENCY

The International Garment Manufacturing company has just named Money-Back Art, corner Main and Auburn streets, Grass Valley, its Northern California representative. Probably never before outside of the large cities, have good materials and workmanship in men's and boys' suits, made to measure, been offered at such low prices as this big manufacturing company now enables its agents to quote. Gaberdine, three-piece suits are made to order at prices that are much below most ready-to-wear garments.

James Kistle will join a group of friends at Lake Tahoe and enjoy the Fourth on a picnic along the lake shore.

EASTERNER TO LIVE HERE

Elmer Davis of the state of Michigan has come to Nevada City to make his home near his brother, Will Davis, in Willow Valley. Will Davis retired recently from work in a Sacramento paper shop after about 20 years steady employment there and the two brothers are having a good time visiting and working together. Mrs. Davis has gone to Selma to spend several weeks visiting two cousins.

ROY GARDNER IS LECTURER AT TREASURE ISLE

Roy Gardner, who has purchased a home near Nevada City has become a lecturer on Treasure Island excursion boats to Alcatraz Island, where he was confined for 25 months.

The one time mail bandit and escape wizard regales the speed cruiser passengers with stories of his life as an "animated cavader" in the government's most notorious prison, "The Rock". Author of a book, "Hellcatraz", Gardner tells an interesting inside story of the life of the nation's public enemies serving life sentence there.

In a sensational career of crime starting in 1920, Gardner kept his record clean of bloodshed.

He was first arrested for the hold-up of a mail truck in San Diego. Sentenced to serve 25 years in McNeil Island Federal Prison, he escaped at Portland, Ore., by snatching a gun from one of his train guards. In the spring of 1921, he escaped from a federal agent's trap at Gordon Valley, Calif., and held up the Pacific Limited between Roseville and Auburn. Captured eight days later, he was sentenced to serve an additional 25 years.

Before Gardner was behind the federal prison bars, he made a second spectacular train escape, covering his guards with a gun he had concealed in his clothing.

He chained his deputy United States marshals with manacles from his own arms and legs and locked them in a drawing room. Ten days after he escaped from the train at Castlerock, Wash., he was captured at Centralia and taken to McNeil Island on June 15, 1921.

Just 81 days later, Gardner swam a mile to the mainland with bullet wounds in both legs. Two other convicts who made the break were killed by gunfire.

On November 30 of that year he committed his last crime, attempting to hold up the Santa Fe mail train at Phoenix, Ariz.

"The clerk overpowered me," Gardner said. "I could have escaped by killing him. But I was not a killer like the gansters of today."

Another 25 years was added to Gardner's prison sentences. He served time in McNeal Island, Leavenworth, Atlanta—"just playhouses as compared to Alcatraz Island."

PLAN TO SIMPLIFY LEGISLATIVE WORK

BERKELEY—The need for a legisaltive council to advise the members of the state legislature on the complex and multitudinous questions of policy, economics, law, business organization and finance that confronts them every biennium, and thus short cut many of the legislative processes, is set forth in a special survey made by the Bureau of Public Administration of the University of California. The survey was requested by a number of the members of the 1939 legislature as a guide toward a more effective and expedient handling of the accumulation of questions and problems that confront the state's law makers.

The survey, a fact finding study, gives arguments both for and against legislative councils. It points out, however, that such bodies now exist in seven states, Kansas, Nebraska, Virginia, Kentucky, Connecticut, Illinoios and that the tendency is to increase the appropriations for thes bodies because of the effective work they do in tightening up legislative detail and operation, framing easily understandable programs and overcoming the confusion of inexperienced legislators.

The virtues of the well planned legislative council as a time saver and a money saver, is set forth in the study. The greater part of the council's work would be carried out in the legislative interims, this work being that of program building based o research and fact finding.

Since 1904, California has maintained a reference service for legislators through the state library. In 1913 the legislative council was established to give technical assistance in bill drafting and to advise the occasional necessity of law revision. But the state lacks an official program in the interims, prepared on the foundation of thorough research and study of the needs of the people, and the type of legislation required to fit those needs.

RAIL BY-PASS AT SHASTA DAM SITE COMPLETED

Railroad traffic between California and the Pacific Northwest now passes under ,instead of across, an abutment of the Shasta Dam site as a result of completion of a by-pass tunnel in the Sacramento river canyon 12 miles north of Redding.

Officials of the United States Bureau of Reclamation ,the Southern Pacific Company, the Colonial Construction Company, Shasta county and the city of Redding participated in a ceremony Monday at the south portal of the tunnel. A section gang tamped the last ballast under the track early in the afternoon and the first train, a northbound fast freight No. 1-620 was diverted through the tunnel at 2:55 a. m.

Ralph Lowry, construction engineer of Shasta dam, said use of the tunnel will permit excavation to proceed for the base of the dam on the west side of the river without waiting for completion of the permanent 30-mile railroad relocation around the entire Shasta reservoir site.

CUB SCOUTS PARENTS INVITED TO PARK

The Nevada City Cub Scouts will hold a special Parents Night meeting this evening at seven o'clock. The meeting will be held at the picnic grounds at Pioneers Park, instead of at Seaman's Lodge as originally announced. Edgar A. Williams, scout executive, will address the Cubs and parents present and will show moving pictures of camp and other cub activities. Refreshments will be served following the meeting. All parents of boys of Cub Scout age are cordially invited to be present. Attorney Thomas McCraney of this cty is Cub Scout Master.

Herbert and Henry Paine, mining men of Lake City, spent several hours in Nevada City yesterday on business.

Miss Ruth Tamblyn of Nevada City is attending summer school at the College of Pacific. The session covers five weeks ending July 21. Miss Tamblyn is a graduate student from the University of Southern California.

FIFTY YEAR MEMBERS OF NEVA REBEKAH

The list of members to be honored is as follows: Mrs. Lulu Clutter Jones, Mrs. Antha Locklin, Mrs. Grace Nilon, Mary Hosken, Grace Eddy, Mary Thomas, Mrs. Adeline Curtis and Mrs, Adelaide Denny, the latter two being Nevada county's oldest living twins, and Mrs. Ivey of Sacramento.

Each member of the group will be remembered with a small gift. A short program will be given, those preparing to take part are: Mrs. Antha Locklin, Mrs. Maude Hayes, musical selections; Mrs. Hilda Risley, remarks. Mrs. Locklin is preparing to leave Nevada City shortly to reside in the bay district with her brother.

The committee in charge of the affair are Mrs. Esther Tremaine, Mrs. Mary Flynn, Mrs. Annie Richards, Mrs. Virginia Browning, Mrs. Nettie Gildersleeve, Mrs. Annie Browning, Margaret Milton and Mrs. Jonathan Pascoe.

GOLDEN ARROW SUES FOR STOCK AND ACCOUNTING

The Golden Arrow Mines, Inc., appealed to the Alameda County Superior Court last week to obtain accounting for sale of mining stock reputedly in excess of $10,000.

Action was brought against G. E. Duke of El Cerrito, who assertedly entered into an agreement with the Wonder Gold Mines, Inc., by which he received 609,252 shares of capital stock of par value of 25 cents per share.

It is alleged that Duke was to sell a part of the stock to obtain finances for working the mine in Sierra county. Instead, it is charged, Duke did not furnish or raise any money to operate or drill on the property, and failed to comply with the agreement.

Besides the accounting, the plaintiff asks the agreement with Duke be voided and that the stock be returned to Golden Arrow Mines, Inc. which brought the suit as trustee for shareholders of Wonder Gold Mines, Inc.

W. T. Ortman, 1265 Excelsior Avenue, Oakland, is president of the Golden Arrow Mines, Inc., Attorney Lawrence Sledge, represents the plaintiff.

ROTARY SEATS

Mr. Henrich announced that the program at Pioneers park will include on Mondays from 1 to 3 p. m. girls handicraft classes under the direction of Mrs. Bonebreak; on Tuesdays from 1 to 2:30 boys cooking classes and girls from 2:30 to 4 p. m. with Mrs. E. H. Robinson and Mrs. Clyde Gwin in charge; on Wednesday from 1 to 3 p. m. boys handicraft classes under direction of Mrs Bonebreak; and on Thursday from 1 to 2 p. m. story hour with members of the elementary P. T. A. telling stories under the direction of President Mrs. W. P. Lee.

The organization of soft and volley ball teams is going forward. Archery and other sports and games will be offered. Utilization will be made of the large field in front of Seaman's lodge for recreational purposes. The Tahoe Lumber company and Alpha Stores Ltd. have donated materials for some of the equipment such as sand boxes for the tiny tots.

NO FIRE WORKS IN NAT. FOREST

Uncle Sam believes one hundred per cent in the safe and sane Fourth of July Act recently passed by the legislature. This law is not yet in effect so once more he reminds the younger generation, and their dads, that fireworks must not be taken into the national forests. This means fire crackers of all sizes, and kinds —Roman candles, skyrockets, pinwheels, bombs and balloons operated with candles, or flame of any kind. Its tough on the kids but its better to be safe than run the risk of burning up the camp ground.

There is more reason to be careful than usual this season, according to Regional Forester S. B. Show. To date the number of fires in the national forests of California are 44 per cent above the normal for this time of year. For the state as a whole the State Division of Forestry shows a more serious situation than the national forests. According to reports from the State Forester 22,910 acres have been burned over to June 1 which is twice the area burned last year and five times as much as in 1937. There have been 839 fires to that date, which is in excess of the two previous years in the same proportion as the acreage burned.

The reason given by both the Federal and State Forest officials for this condition is sub-normal precipitation during the winter and early spring with drying winds which has caused the grass, brush and forest cover to become tinder dry. Thunder storms and high temperatures have added to the fire danger.

"No Hunting or Trespassing" signs for sale at the Nugget Office.

COLUMBIA U. GIVES FIRST JOB STATISTICS

In an information service given through a special arrangement with Teachers College Columbia University of New York city a question and answer bureau has been established. A very pertinent question and answer with some statistics on how college graduates obtain their first job is given below.

Question: How do college graduates generally obtain their first job? Does work experience prior to graduation play a considerable part in their finding positions?

Reply: Work experience prior to graduation led to the first job obtained in the cases of 22 per cent of a group of about 44,000 alumni graduated from 31 universities in 20 states during the period 1928-1935, as reported in a recent bulletin, The Economic Status of College Alumni published by the U. S. Office of Education. 33 per cent of the men graduates reporting said that they had obtained their first job through personal initiative and search; 4 per cent through employment agencies, private or public; 17 per cent through placement by the college or members of the faculty; 15 per cent through family influence; 1 per cent alumni assistance; 2 per cent through fraternity relationships, and 8 per cent through other miscellaneous methods.

Of the women graduates reporting 8 per cent had obtained their first employment through employment agencies and only 9 per cent by means of family influence. Otherwise the percentages showed only slight variations from those for the men.

Mrs. Edna Maguire and grandson, Vincent Meredith, came up from Oakland Wednesday. Mrs. Maguire went to the bay district as a delegate from Laurel Parlor Native Daughters of the Golden West and her grandson has returned to spend the summer here.

Clarence Hammermeister of Puyallup, Washington, arrived Tuesday and will remain for a time. He worked at the Murchie and Lava Cap when here before. His brother, Ed Hammermeister, who went to the Philippines, several months ago is employed under LaMar Fleming in mine work.

Gus Orzali, employed at the Murchie mine, spent Sunday in Marysville attending the baseball game.

Mrs. Isobel Hefelfinger, county health nurse, left Sunday for Los Angeles where she will attend summer school.

PAUL VILES IN NEW BUICK BLDG.

Paul Viles, Buick automobile and G. M. C. Truck distributor in Nevada County, has moved into his brand new building in Hills Flat, and will have his opening day tomorrow, Saturday.

In the new building with its commodious show room and service pavilion, Mr. Viles has established the United Motors Service equipment which provides precision instruments for discovering all faults in motor cars and quick and efficient methods of correcting them. This service is new to Nevada county and will prove a boon to all motorists because it does away with guess work and slipshod, careless repairs in maintaining car efficiency in all makes of cars. Included in this service is the Delco-Remy electrical equipment and parts.

Along with the best and latest devices for motor repairs, Mr. Viles has installed a complete service station. Cars will be serviced, oiled, lubricated and provided with gas. They may be washed, brakes adjusted and renewed, and a thorough overhauling given whenever desired.

Since taking over the Buick distributorship in Nevada county three years ago Paul Viles has doubled and re-doubled sales of these popular cars and also has made an enviable record in the sale of G. M. C. trucks.

He will carry a complete line of of General Motors and Chrysler parts and partial lines for several automobile makes.

Lawn Picnic Party in Honor of Bride

Mrs. Jean Gleason Burnham, married in Yuma, Ariz., on June 18, arrived in Nevada City this week and is visiting her mother, Mrs. E. P. Gleason and other family members. She was married to Carlton Burnham of Hollywood.

The bride graduated from the local school and Chico state college. She taught in Pleasant Valley, Nevada county, and West Acres near Sacramento. The groom is in business in Los Angeles but has been engaged in newspaper work in Chicago and New York.

Mrs. Burnham will leave in a few days for the southern part of the state and attend the University of Southern California summer school taking up special subjects as she wishes to continue to teach.

On Saturday, July 8, her mother will entertain at a lawn wedding picnic party at the family home on Prospect street, beginning at 6:30 o'clock. Electric lights will be strung about the garden and a loud speaker will announce entertainment. Sally Noyes and Zoe Kagerer will assist in the evening program.

TAKES OVER NEVADA STATE MINE PROPERTY

J. M. Hoff has recently taken over a mill and Louie Stine of Reno, has an option on the Lucky Boy mine, near Hawthorne, Nevada. Hoff will operate the 125 ton daily capacity Marcy ball mill as a custom plant. There are a number of lessors in the district and ore is shipped either to Salt Lake City of Selby's making the operations very expensive. Louie Stine who had options on properties in Nevada county at different times, will operate the mine.

Miss Juanita Mullennex of the bay district, will spend the week end and holiday in Nevada City with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Kirth Mullennex at Cains Auto Court.

SPECIAL GUARDS IN FOREST OVER FOURTH WEEK END

The full protection force of the Tahoe Forest will be on duty over the Fourth, according to officials in the Nevada City office. The weather forecast is for continued dry weather with the probability of moderate to fresh winds, which will greatly increase the fire danger. Supervisor Nelson urgently requests the co-operation of the public in exercising care with fire over the holiday period, especially with regard to smoking, and the use of fire-works. Fire-works are prohibited by Federal regulations within the forest and by state laws and county ordinances outside the forest area. Smoking is permitted only on main through highways, in improved campgrounds, and places of habitation or in posted areas or "fag stations" that have been posted by forest officers. These fag stations will be recognized by the "Smoke Here" sign and forest officers have posted them wherever they figure smoking can be done with safety to the forest resources. At any time, though, care should be exercised in the disposal of cigarette stubs, pipe ashes, etc. Camp fires should not be left unattended and should be completely extinguished and covered with dirt before camp is abandoned. Supervisor Nelson says that often when the camp fires have been doused with water only and apparently completely out, winds have arisen and fanned the embers into a flame.

BATHTUB SCENE IN 'WITHIN THE LAW' IS EYEFUL

The filming of a bathtub scne, with Ruth Hussey almost totally submerged in suds, was attended in Hollywood with slightly less ceremony than the transfer of a federal mint.

The scene was for the modernization of Bayard Veiller's stage triumph, "Within the Law," which comes to the Nevada Theatre Saturday night, July 1. Director Gustav Machaty specified a set of bathroom size upon which were cameramen, eectricians, prop men and others perched on the overhead catwalks.

Miss Hussey emerged from her dressing room and was in the tub when the lights went on. Rita Johnson stood over her pouring scented bath salts as the scene was filmed. A still cameraman forced his way through the press with equipment and high courage.

"Ready for a still. Miss Hussey," he called. "Please raise your knee above the suds—hold it." Flash. "Thank you!"

A pipe line leading to the set had evidently been damaged by workmen and it suddenly turned a stream of water upon the startled crew. They scattered. At the same time the pressure forced a connection loose at the bathtub and another fountain burst out there. Miss Hussey, wrapped in a clinging wet robe, ran for her dressing room as the studio plumbing department responded to the emergency call.

CHAMBER DISTRIBUTES MAPS OF NEVADA CITY

H. E. Sofge secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, states that anyone desiring a map of Nevada City may obtain one by calling at the chamber headquarters in the city hall. The new maps were drawn by H. P. Davis, engineer, and are the first be printed for several years. Drawings and designations of historic spots in the city, adorn the map. The site of the first store building erected here at the junction of High and Nevada streets, the first quartz claim, the richest gravel diggings, and other places of interest are located on the new city map.

EXTORTIONIST CHARGES WILL BE HEARD JULY 3

The preliminary examination of Harlan Henecke, William Johnson and Andy Sales charged with an attempt to extort $600 from George Vankoff at Washington on June 16, has been continued until July 3. They state that they expect to have an attorney to represent them on that date. Sheriff Tobiassen has received a report from the state bureau of identification that Johnson, alias William Nelson served a term in the Wyoming state prison for grand larceny.

V. F. W. TO GIVE DANCE AT NORTH SAN JUAN JULY 1

The Veterans of Foreign Wars are giving a big dance tomorrow (Saturday) night in North San Juan. There will be a public initiation of a new class of recruits as a part of the special program given in connection with the dance. The public is cordially invited to attend and a good time is assured all those who go. The Veterans of Foreign Wars have won a splendid reputation as hosts at the dances they have given in the past. North San Juan on a summer night is an ideal destination for those who love a jolly time in the big Twamley (community) hall there.

The many friends of Jack Campbell will be pleased to learn that he is able to be up and about the house after a severe attack of flu.
